REPORTS

Middle School Quarterly Report

Kristi Krieg presented information on the current middle school enrollment and the NWEA data for math and ELA. Blue and Gold students are coming on alternating Wednesdays on an early release schedule. Mrs. Krieg provided highlights of intervention and enrichment activities.

Special Programs: Title I and LAP Plans; Migrant and Bilingual Education

Judi Jensen and Cyndy Valdez from North Central Educational Service District, provided the special programs reports.

Financial

Bobbi Catone reviewed the monthly financial reports.

Superintendent

Steve McCullough reported that the district did a staff survey on health and safety protocols as a reminder to continue to follow the protocols to keep our schools open. Mr. McCullough provided a hiring update, adding that a list of candidates who are scheduled for interviews for positions in the district will be provided to the board. The shop project update was provided. Jack Denison is taking the lead on selling the district's surplus items. Through the HVAC ESCO Phase 1, the district saved $18,000. Now that sports are starting, each athlete is allowed two fans to attend home games. Most games will be played on Saturdays.

UNFINISHED BUSINESS

Planning for New School Year

Steve McCullough shared a plan the administrators have discussed to start next school year with five days a week. Within that plan, the administrators want to create enough space and hire enough teachers to have classes of 18 students across the district. The school board supported the plan and thanked the administrators for putting the students first.
